

We Stand With P&G

“We’re standing with P&G because they are a cornerstone of our region’s business community. P&G employees are leaders and innovators, and their civic commitment makes Cincinnati a better place to live and work. Each one of us has seen first-hand the savvy and strategic business leadership of P&G CEO David Taylor. The company is growing and seizing new opportunities, and its senior management is ensuring that it is well-positioned for long-term sustainability. We’re proud investors, customers, and friends. And we stand with them today because they stand with us, always.”
